Fuego Modular

Expand your social network with the right connections.

Equal parts modernist dreamscape and culinary powerhouse, Fuego Modular is a fully customized outdoor kitchen that dishes up entertaining at its best. Individual stainless steel and teak modules — for grilling, warming, stashing, chilling and washing can be configured any way you want. Being the envy of your friends comes separately.

Unit Elements

Storage Unit

Underneath an eye-catching expanse of teak is a heavy-duty cabinet big enough to house everything from our grill unit's interchangeable drawer system to the makings of a perfect margarita.

Grill Units

Both our gas and infrared grill units boast enough BTUs to tackle whatever you toss their way, along with a patented quick-change drawer system that allows accessory drawers for charcoal, infrared or gas to slide in and out with ease.

Cook Unit

A two-burner cook-top unit with a roomy storage area below makes running to the kitchen to stir the pot or grab stuff nothing short of obsolete.

Warm Unit

Our warm unit lives up to its name. Underneath a slate countertop, separate compartments keep food at a toasty temperature until you're ready to serve.
